London's burning, London's burning, fire fire!

As historians, we will find out about the Great Fire of London from a variety of sources.

We will look closely at the individual events that culminated in the Great Fire and discuss similarities and differences between London today and 1666.

We will write a diary in the style of Samuel Pepys using our imaginations to transport ourselves back in time to Tudor London, empathising with those who lived on Pudding Lane.

We will develop our art and design skills and create a silhouette of the London skyline, whilst also, experiencing what a fire is like in forest school.
